

2018 Symposium

“So long, and thanks for all the fish!”
Using what we have learned and planning for the future.

Nicholas J. Ward, Ph.D.

June 23, 2018 | 11:15 AM – noon

MONTANA
STATE UNIVERSITY

Western Transportation
Institute

Center for Health & Safety Culture

Reflect

[source: unsplash.com]

Share

- As you reflect on the past 2 ½ days of the symposium, what stands out to you most (e.g., a new idea)?
- What are some the next “Big Questions” we need to answer to move forward (e.g., future work)?
- Based on your experience here, how do you think the way you do your work might change?

Engage

30 Days:

Based on what you learned here, what is something specific that would only take you 30 minutes to do, but could significantly change your work (effective)?

Engage

6 Months:

List three things (e.g., ideas, definitions, etc.) from this symposium that you do not want your future self to forget?

Farewell

“Don't be dismayed by good-byes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends.”

- Richard Bach

[source: unsplash.com]

Upcoming!

2018 Positive Culture Framework Training

September 25 - 27, 2018

MONTANA
STATE UNIVERSITY

Western Transportation
Institute

Center for Health & Safety Culture

Thank you!